Christina Jones grew up playing soccer in the great state of Texas. She began playing competitively at age 13 and captained her high school team for two years before moving on to the college level. After moving to Maryland in 2010, Christina played with the Washington Area Women's Soccer League. She currently plays indoor soccer in the 21 and up league. Christina taught elementary school and preschool for six years, giving her extensive knowledge of child development and team management. She believes in creating a positive learning environment both on and off the soccer field.
