Elijah grew up in Bowie, Md where he played soccer since the age of five. He played with various youth clubs including with the Bethesda Breakers and Bowie Freestate Alliance. Elijah received a scholarship to play soccer at Valley Forge Military Academy where he was their first scholarship athlete for a sport other than American football, and he was also invited to play at the IMG academy in Florida. In addition to attending Korea University on full athletic scholarship, Elijah played in several Korean Olympics tournaments in multiple cities including one international tournament in South Korea.

He is still actively playing for fun, and runs a local men's team with about 40 members. Most recently, Elijah has returned from running a small soccer academy in South Korea where he taught soccer and English to local children.
